

FULCRUM

Fulcrum Dry Gewurztraminer, Anderson Valley

Jeb Dunnuck

2018 Fulcrum Dry Gewurztraminer, Anderson Valley

With a Muscat-like nose of honeyed grapefruit, tangerine, and exotic flowers, the 2018 Gewürztraminer Anderson Valley is juicy and lively on the palate, with beautiful balance and purity. This is going to shine on the dinner table and be heaven with a cheese course.

2016 Fulcrum Dry Gewurztraminer, Anderson Valley

This medium-bodied full-flavored wine is a great example of the dry-style wines from Anderson Valley. It starts with a rose-like perfume, then floods the palate with Anjou pear and white peach. It feels rich and creamy, but also has good acidity and a tasty lingering finish.

92 Points Excellent and Editors' Choice - Jim Gordon, November 2017

Arizona Sun

2016 Fulcrum Dry Gewurztraminer, Anderson Valley

This pleasing Gewürz is dry, but not bone dry. Beautifully made, it expresses fine balance, complexity and polish. A great food wine. - John Vankat, November 2017
